Adam Smith Institute Internship Program For Students 2025

Description

The Adam Smith Institute offers a dynamic internship program designed for aspiring professionals passionate about economic policy and research. This internship provides an immersive experience in the world of think tanks and public policy, fostering an environment where creativity and innovation thrive. Interns will work closely with experienced economists, researchers, and policy analysts, contributing to impactful projects and reports that influence national and international policy debates.

Responsibilities

Interns at the Adam Smith Institute are entrusted with a variety of responsibilities, including:

- Conducting research and analysis on current economic and policy issues.
- Assisting in the preparation of reports, policy briefs, and publications.
- Organizing and participating in events, seminars, and workshops.
- Supporting the team in communications, including social media and website content.
- Engaging in collaborative projects with team members and external stakeholders.

Qualifications

To be considered for the internship, candidates should possess:

- A strong academic background in economics, political science, or related fields.
- Excellent analytical and research skills.
- Strong written and verbal communication abilities.
- A keen interest in free-market economics and policy reform.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office Suite and familiarity with research tools.

Job Benefits

The Adam Smith Institute Internship offers numerous benefits, such as:

- Hands-on experience in a leading think tank environment.
- Opportunities to network with policymakers, industry leaders, and academics.
- Professional development workshops and mentorship from experienced staff.
- A collaborative and inspiring work culture that encourages innovation.
- Potential for future employment opportunities within the institute or related fields.

Experience

While prior experience in policy research or a think tank is advantageous, it is not mandatory. The institute values enthusiasm, eagerness to learn, and a proactive approach to problem-solving. This internship is ideal for recent graduates or those in the final stages of their academic programs.
