Sothebys Online Internship For Students 2024-2025

Description

Embark on a unique journey with Sotheby's, where art, history, and business converge in an extraordinary internship experience. As a leading global auction house, Sotheby's offers a dynamic environment for aspiring professionals to gain invaluable insights into the art world.

At Sotheby's, the internship program is an immersive experience designed to offer hands-on exposure to the inner workings of a world-renowned auction house. Interns will engage with various departments, gaining a comprehensive understanding of auction operations, client services, and art appraisal.

Responsibilities

Interns will be responsible for assisting with cataloging and researching pieces for upcoming auctions, supporting client communications, and contributing to the preparation of auction materials. They will also have the opportunity to participate in auction events, providing logistical and administrative support.

Qualifications

Candidates should be pursuing or have recently completed a degree in art history, business, or a related field. A strong interest in the art market, excellent research skills, and attention to detail are essential. Familiarity with auction processes and art valuation is a plus.

Job Benefits

Interning at Sotheby's offers numerous benefits, including the opportunity to work alongside industry experts, exposure to high-profile art pieces, and an insider's view of the global art market. Interns will also have access to exclusive networking events and professional development workshops.

Experience

This internship is ideally suited for individuals with a passion for art and a keen interest in auctioneering. Previous experience in a gallery, museum, or art-related role will be advantageous but not required. The collaborative and fast-paced environment will provide a rich learning experience.

Skills

Interns will develop a range of skills, including art appraisal techniques, market research, client relationship management, and event coordination. Strong communication skills and the ability to work independently and as part of a team are crucial.
